WHAT SHOULD I ALREADY KNOW

- Hindus believe in one God, the Ultimate Reality, known as Brahman.
- Hindus believe in a cycle of life, death and rebirth.
- Diwali and Holi are two important Hindu festivals.

GODS The name for the Hindu God is Brahman.

He is a powerful force and has many different roles and sides to his personality.

Brahman—the creator

Vishnu—the preserver

Shiva—the destroyer

Atman, Karma and the Journey of Life	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Many Hindus believe all living beings possess a 'spark' of Brahman known as atman, which means that all living beings are sacred and special. • Hindus believe the spark of God is eternal, so when their body dies it will be reborn into another body. Which body it goes into will depend on karma. • Hindu life is a journey through different stages with different duties. • Hindus describe life as a journey towards moksha; freedom from the cycle of birth, death and rebirth towards oneness with God.
Faith at Home	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hindus see their faith as being a complete way of life – all of life is part of their dharma (duty to act in the right way as God teaches). • Hindus show their faith in God through puja (Hindu worship). • During worship, the aarti lamp is lit and offered to the deity. It is then seen as having become filled with the deity's blessings and energy.
Faith in the Mandir	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hindus worship together at a mandir or temple where Puja is performed. • There are many shrines inside the temple. Going to worship at a shrine is like visiting the gods and goddesses. • Hindu worshippers ring a bell at the shrine to awaken God. Prayers are said and offerings such as food are made. • Hinduism has a rich musical tradition. There are many 'bhajans' devoted to different deities; some fast and upbeat, some peaceful and meditative.
